On a barrier island fronting historic Apalachicola Bay, St. George Island State Park offers visitors a little strip of paradise. Beachside or bayside, the spectacular views of crystal waters, blue skies, and sugary beaches will make you want to stay.

Miles of undeveloped beaches on this barrier island provide the perfect setting for the park, which offers ample opportunities for night time stargazing and daytime sunbathing, swimming, canoeing, kayaking, boating, fishing, hiking, camping and nature study.
